

To help you complete this worksheet, use the Biggest, Fastest, Smallest, Slowest book.

Leaf chameleon

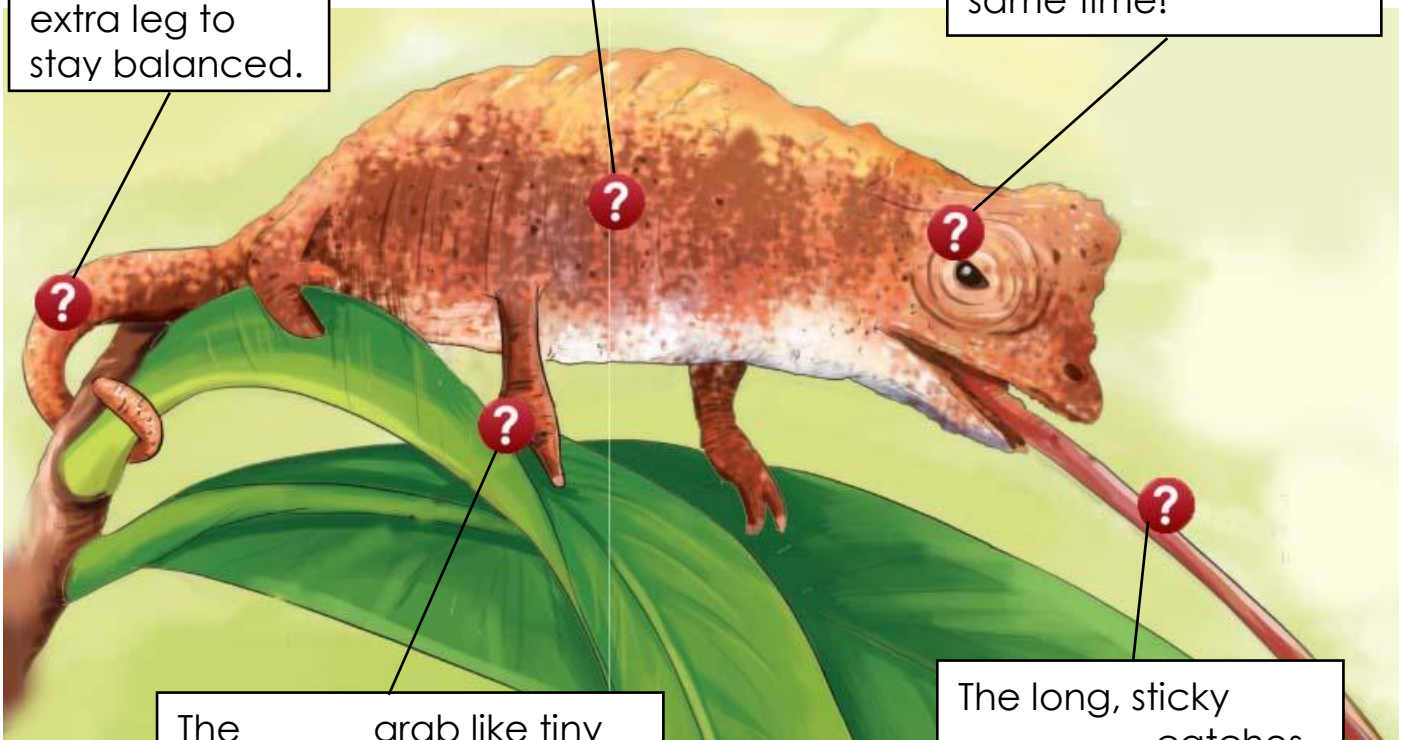

smallest reptile

The leaf chameleon is a very tiny _____. It is the _____ reptile in the world. It weighs less than one _____! Leaf chameleons live on the forest floor on an island that is part of the African country of _____. They hide under dead _____ and hunt for tiny _____ to eat.

The leaf chameleon uses its strong _____ as an extra leg to stay balanced.

The sides of the _____ are flat, which makes the chameleon hard to see.

They _____ move around separately. This lizard can look forward and backward at the same time!

The _____ grab like tiny hands.

The long, sticky _____ catches insects to eat.

