To help you complete this worksheet, use the Jobs to Do book.

Software engineer

Software engineers write the _____ that computers follow. These instructions are called a software _____. The program tells a computer what to do and _____ to do it. Software programs help people do different kinds of _____ on the computer. Software works together with _____, the parts of a computer you can touch.

A software engineer uses a _____ to create electronic instructions.

A software engineer writes a program in a _____.

A computer's hardware includes the _____ and _____.